BAHEP welcomes WDHB, Inc.

BAY AREA HOUSTON, TEXAS – The Bay Area Houston Economic Partnership (BAHEP) proudly welcomes WDHB, Inc., a boutique learning and development company dedicated in driving business impacts through hands-on learning.

WDHB, otherwise known as Warm Decent Human Beings, is a global company focused on ensuring that organizations around the world have access to industry-leading learning experiences, programs, and approaches that allow people to grow personally and professionally. Founded in the San Francisco Bay Area in 1989, WDHB has trailblazed the experimental learning sector.

Bay Area Houston Economic Partnership President, Brian Freedman, shared “Bay Area Houston Economic Partnership is thrilled to have WDHB as a new member. WDHB’s international leadership is something we are excited to expand on with Bay Area Houston’s business community.”

Sunil Narang, President and CEO of WDHB, stated “The team at WDHB ("Warm, Decent Human Beings") is proud to join BAHEP. As a learning and development company for over three decades, we have been committed to bringing our clients from leading corporations to experience Houston's diverse sectors including space, retail, healthcare, energy, and academia. As Houston continues to serve as the foremost leader in space exploration, we also see the region as the perfect launching point to evolve the next wave of pioneers across every industry. As a new member organization, we gratefully look forward to contributing to BAHEP’s ongoing mission of defining Houston's future.”
