BAHEP welcomes MRC The Crossings

BAY AREA HOUSTON, TEXAS – The Crossings in League City, owned and operated by Methodist Retirement Communities (MRC), has joined the Bay Area Houston Economic Partnership (BAHEP). The Crossings is a non-profit organization that provides all levels of living: independent living, assisted living, memory support, transitional skilled nursing, and long-term care skilled nursing; and is the only 5-star, non-profit, continuous care retirement community in the Bay Area Houston region.

Brian Freedman, Bay Area Houston Economic Partnership President, expressed “We are proud to welcome The Crossings as a new member. Their ability to meet the needs of elders at any stage of their life is something we find admirable.”

Executive Director at The Crossings, Greg Rossi, shared “Methodist Retirement Communities has been serving the Bay Area since 1962 and continues to serve in League City at The Crossings. We are proud to be the area’s only non-profit, faith-based senior living community. Over the years, we have learned our reach broadens the deeper our roots go. That is why standing arm in arm with other like-minded local businesses and industry leaders is not only important to us, but also a priority. At The Crossings we believe the Bay Area should be an ideal place to grow old, and together, we can make it so.”

More To Know About MRC The Crossings

As a provider of continuous care, The Crossings is committed to its mission statement of meeting the needs of older adults wherever they are in life, regardless of their nationality, race, gender, disability, or religion. Located in League City, Texas, The Crossings is one of 13 senior living establishments operated by Methodist Retirement Communities, which serves around 2,500 Elders annually with communities located in College Station, Bryan, Huntsville, Lufkin,

Texarkana, Fort Worth, and La Porte, with a central office in The Woodlands. The Crossings dedicate their services to individuals ages 62 and above.

The Crossings flexible community gives individuals the option of independent living, assisted living, memory support, long term skilled nursing, and transitional skilled nursing (rehabilitation). The Crossings follows a set of standards called ICARE Values: Integrity, Compassion, Accountability, Respect, and Excellence. Being certified in the Eden Alternative Registry, The Crossings honors the organization's deep commitment to transforming traditional models of care into person-directed approaches that put the Elder first.
