

News release

Bay Area Houston Economic Partnership
1150 Gemini Street, Suite 1050
Houston, TX 77058
832.536.3255
visit: www.bayareahouston.com

BAHEP welcomes Avison Young

BAY AREA HOUSTON, TEXAS – Avison Young has joined the Bay Area Houston Economic Partnership (BAHEP) as its newest member. Avison young is a global commercial real estate advisor that is dedicated to creating economic, social, and environmental value powered by people.

Brian Freedman, President of Bay Area Houston Economic Partnership, shared “BAHEP is proud to welcome Avison Young; their global mission of creating economic benefits for communities aligns with our initiatives to strengthen the Bay Area region.” He added, “Avison Young is also the responsible leasing agent for our building here at BAHEP, and we sincerely value their expertise and partnership.”

Avison Young Senior Associate, Courtney Knightstep- Buckout, said “Joining BAHEP is a great opportunity to connect with business leaders in the Bay Area Houston region, and we look forward to contributing to BAHEP’s mission of growing the economy and quality life in the community.”

An Inside Scoop on Avison Young

Founded in 1978, Avison Young is a global commercial real estate firm founded on the belief that real estate is more than just square footage, it is about creating spaces that improve lives and help businesses thrive. The company offers a wide range of services tailored to each client’s needs, including advisory, planning, management, financing, investment sales, leasing, and property management across various sectors such as office, retail, industrial, multi-family, and hospitality.

With a focus on putting clients first, Avison Young is driven by a team of experts who work together delivering shared success. The firm operates from more than 100 offices globally with properties in Canada, Germany, Hungary, Ireland, Romania, The United Kingdom, and the United States and employees approximately 5,000 professionals. Avison Young's core values remain rooted in putting people first, creating economic, social, and environmental benefits for both clients and communities.

For more information about Avison Young, please visit www.AvisonYoung.com or contact Courtney.Buckout@Avisonyoung.com.

-END-